LITTLE GOSSIP IN THE BOXING LINE.

Growing Opinion That Jeffries is Not Anxious to Meet Munroe.

BURNS' SWEEPING CHALLENGE

Agrees to Meet Thompson and Lavellee In the Same Ring and Beat Both In Twenly Rounds.

"Is Jeffries, for reasons best known to himself, trying to crawl out of his match "Do you think Jeffries is afraid of the Butte Miner? These questions, and other like them, have been heard frequently of late by the writer, and there is a growing sentiment in local sporting circles that the big fellow, for some unknown reason, would not care if he never faced Munroe in the

Some have gone so far as to declare their belief that Jeff feels that the chamtheir belief that Jen danger, while others planship is really in danger, while others express the opinion that the several postponements of the light were simply smooth moves on the part of the champion's trainers and advisers. Had the men entered the ring tonight, Jeff would have been a lot of tavorite and even at such odds there would not have been much Munroe money in sight. It is beseved by some that the reports about the boilermaker's condition, and the continuance of the fight, were put out simply to create more confidence in Munroe, and cause his admirrs to separte themselves from their coln. Whether this is true or not, the big fight will not take place until the last of August, if, inceed, it comes off then. The fighters have posted $2,500 clich, as a guarantee of good faith, and they will be expected to post a like amount in a few days, making their forfeit money $5,000 each. This should misure their appearance in the language to the story about Munroe bringing the pionship is really in danger, while others

ing the story about Munroe bringing the hampion to his knees, is being circulated again. When Jeff and Fitz were in the cat when Jeff the house of the hampion to the hampion bout it Butte, Jeffries told the writer that the tery was simply a lot of baked atmosphere. That alunroe knocked him down was denied by Jeff and by every member whis party.

one of these said to the "News" recentally:

"Jeff and his friends may deny it all they please but it is a fact all the same, that Munroe dropped the giant to his snees by a good hard smash on the jaw. It is to Jeffries interest to deny the story, but his denial does not change the fact. I was there and saw it. I will say this, however, that I believe Jeff held aunroe as the rawest kind of a dub; that he (Jeff) was not in "ood condition" that he was careiess, and did not think Munroe could hit him. But Munroe did hit him, hard. The blow brought the champion to his knees, and if they meet again, the Butte man has an excellent chance of doin" the trick again."

It is hard to understand why all these son that his opinion about "being small" is not correct.

Burns said to the writer last evening: "If this man Thompson thinks I am too small for him, I wil tell you what I will agree to do: I will meet him and Jack Lavelle at catch weights in the same ring, on the same night, for a twenty-round go. If either man beats me in that time, I don't want a cent. If this does not suit them, I will take on Thompson alone, and if I do not knock him out in twenty rounds, he can have every cent of the money. Now, talk is cheap and these men have done jots of it, but do not appear anxious to do business; they don't want any of my game.

"As for Tommy Relliy, he promised me a match, but as yet I haven't been able to get him in the ring with me. What is the matter with all these world-beaters? Why don't they too the scratch and show what they can do. I have been here for weeks in the hope of getting on with some of these fellows. I will meet Relliy at the middleweight limit and be glad of the chance. I will meet Thompson and Lavelle at catch weights and bet the both of them can not beat me in twenty rounds. Unless they are four flushing, let them do business and stop talking.

WILL NEVER MEET WILLIAMS

WILL NEVER MEET WILLIAMS.

Several Reasons Why Thompson Can't Have a "Go" With Policeman.

Eugene Thompson, who runs a gym, and occasionaly wrestles a man of smaller caliber than Ross or Lewis, is spoiling for a fight. He wants to get into the game, if a thinks he can "make good." He says he has got the stuff in him and is of the opinion that he can hold his own with the best of them. He affects to be very desfrous of trying conclusion with Jim Williams, an officer of the police force—a man who can really fight, a man who was for a long time the champion of the state.

a man who can really fight, a man who was for a long time the champion of the state.

The impossibility of such a meeting is apparent. Williams is a peace officer, under oath to assist in manitaining the law. To have him given a leave of absence from official duty for 30 days to train for a fight with Thompson, or any one else, should be sufficient to have mis lave of absence made permanent. Williams' closest friends feel certain that he would not so far forget himself as to think of such a thing for a moment. They are just as certain of this as they are that Mr. Thompson would not last a half coun rounds in such as encounter. In the meanime there is a growing sentiment in the dreles where such work finds favor, that Im should stick to his calling as an officer or go back to the game of lighting which no one desires he should, and that Thompson can be accommodated to the queen's taste by Burns, a man much smaller than himself. It is generally conceded that Thompson is afraid, very much afraid of Burns, the "small man."
